"GUIDE TO HALEBID"

(Annas 4 per copy)

BY

Dr. M. H. KRISHNA, M.A., D.LIT. (LOND.)

(Director of Archæology in Mysore)

The late Mr. Lewis Rice, Director of Archæological Researches, Mysore Government, has said while comparing the Parthenon at Athens, and the Halebid Temple:—

> ". . . . . The Parthenon is the best example we know of pure, refined, intellectual power applied in the production of architecture design. Every part and every effect is calculated with mathematical exactness and executed with precision that never was equalled. The Halebid Temple is the opposite of all this. All the pillars of the Parthenon are identical, while no two facts of the Indian Temple are the same; every convolution and every scroll is different, ... and every part exhibits a joyous exuberance of fancy scorning every mechanical restraint. All that is wild in human faith and warm in human feeling is found portrayed on these walls. . . . . "
